SETS WEDDING DAY

MISS EVANGELINE HUNTLEY TELLS DATE AND PLANS OF WEDDING AT PARTY

Miss Evangeline Huntley was hostess at a little informal party Saturday from 2 to 5 o'clock, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Huntley, 102 North Central avenue.

The game "Bunco" furnished the chief diversion, Miss Catherine Phillips carrying off the prize, a mahogany candlestick carrying a blue taper.

Great bowls of tulips and lilies of the valley in the living room were suggestive of spring and of the new life dawning for the hostess and bride-to-be, while in the dining room roses were everywhere, with orange blossoms as a bridal hint.

When the refreshments were served each guest found a little yellow chicken at her place with a yellow bow around its neck carrying a small card bearing the announcement of the wedding day, June 3d. Of course, the discovery caused a buzz of conversation and shower of congratulations upon Miss Huntley who had to tell her plans, how the marriage will be at the quaint Church of the Angels between Eagle Rock and Highland Park in its beautiful setting of trees and shrubbery and that the ceremony will take place at the twilight hour, all of which was of romantic interest to these old friends and schoolmates. The guest list included: Misses Katherine Dodge, Margaret Gregg, Winifred Jones, Esther Schremp, Gladys Justema, Margaret Lusby, Waunita Emery, Dorothy Hobbs, Myrtle Pulliam, Grace Beach, Carol Willisford, Mildred Wight, Carrie Stone, Catherine Phillips, Frankie Kinch, Dorothy Lee, Lila Webster, Ernestine Lyon and Aileen Johnson; Mrs. Louise Wilson, Mrs. Katherine Ripley, Mrs. Ailine MacMullin.

Mrs. J. G. Huntley was assisted in receiving and entertaining the guests by Mrs. J. Herbert Smith.

VICTORY CAMPAIGN

EASTER MORNING SERMON PREACHED BY DR. OLIVER AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Scripture lesson, Luke, 24th chapter, Text, Luke 24:49:

And behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you; but tarry ye in the City of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high.

Sermon outline: Many people think of Christ's first appearance as a babe in the manger, but that is not so. He was in the beginning with God as a creator.

Satan's plan is to destroy God's influence and undermine the confidence of man in Him. He has been enlarging upon this through the centuries until he now dominates the vast majority of the human race. You give the best of your life to him. He alone was the instigator of the world war. It is well named the "devil's revival." It was the act of the goodness of God when the United States intervened and put down the satanic domination.

God's plan of salvation is greater. Even degenerate worshippers of idols admit that a higher being is present. These two plans are before you: "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve."

God set His endorsement on Christ. He was pure, a Lamb without blemish. Man is accepted of God with Christ in him.

Christ is risen. He was dead, but is alive again forever more. You are not worshipping a dead Jew in a borrowed tomb. God raised Christ for a spiritual representative on earth.

We are not real believers of God if we do not get a thrill in the story of the resurrection and that is the keynote of the doctrine of Christ.

The reason that there is so much deadness in church life is that people fail to recognize the baptism of the Holy Spirit.

When you come to the fork in the roads which way will you take? Don't let Satan tempt you. Line up for Christ.

7 TO 9 IN FAVOR OF ANGELS

The game today in the Major League schedule on the Intermediate field at noon was between Angels and Tigers. Vernon Paul was pitcher for Angels, Gordon Richardson for Tigers. In the second inning Gordon Richardson made a home run for the Tigers which made the score three to four in favor of Tigers. In the third inning the score was tied, 7 to 7. There were no home runs in the fourth inning, but in the fifth the Angels made two home runs which brought the score up to 7 to 9 when the game ended, in favor of the Angels.

SOUND REASONING

VICTORY LOAN WILL FAIRLY TEST INTELLIGENCE AND CHARACTER OF PEOPLE

Men are occasionally heard to say that while they bought bonds willingly when the country was fighting for its life, they do not feel obliged to extend their credit to the Nation now in time of Peace. They say, "If the Government wants to borrow money, let it apply to those who have money to loan." To anyone who reasons correctly, it will be plain that if the Government were borrowing this money for the purpose of undertaking some new project which the public had not previously authorized, that view would be perfectly sound and correct. But is it correct under the circumstances that do exist and what are the circumstances? We were at war for our very national life, the security of our property and the personal safety of every one of us. We were determined upon Victory at any cost, in either wealth or human life. We chose our own Government and we authorized it to take life and wealth, absolutely without limit, to win Victory. Our Government won it for us. It did it nearly a year sooner than we expected, at a far lower price than we would have been glad to pay. It is exactly the kind of Victory we wanted. We are well pleased with it. But, in hurrying back to peace and safety and to the pursuit of profits or wages, we forget that we still owe for it. This is no new obligation that each of us may enter upon or not as he pleases. It is the fifth and final installment on a just debt that we have eagerly incurred and must honorably pay.

There are those who say, "The banks ought to buy this entire loan." After doing so, should the banks then turn to the business of loaning bonds instead of money to the public and pay out bonds instead of money to depositors? To the extent that a bank parts with money in exchange for bonds, it has, to just that extent, ceased to be of any further use as a bank serving the public and the nation. To illustrate this by an extreme case, if a bank should exchange all of its loanable funds for bonds, it might as well close its doors, because it could do no further business with anyone. Such a bank, to be sure, might earn just as much money, for it would be receiving the interest on the bonds; but it could do nothing for the public. Probably three days without banking facilities would bring modern business and industry to a virtual standstill.

There is the occasional investor who says he will buy no more bonds because the ones he bought are quoted below par in the market. If he has not already sold his Liberty Bonds, he can avoid any loss by holding them. There is no probability of their remaining permanently below par. Their fall was only because the country had to absorb so many in so short a time in order to insure a quick victory. But he thinks the Government should have protected him from this apparent loss. By quick victory, the Government protected him against paying his proportion of an indemnity to Germany; it protected the security of his family—perhaps the life of his boy—and the safety of his business and property. He can now live throughout the future in security and personal liberty. To decline to buy his full proportion of the Victory Loan is just to deny that he is one of those whose liberty and future security men died to protect.

Apparently there are even those who feel that they need to buy no bonds in the Victory Loan provided they can sufficiently criticize the Government for its mistakes and its excesses.

A BEAUTY SPOT OF GLENDALE

Roses, roses, everywhere, north, east, south and west. The beautiful bungalow occupied by the Coffee King, 1729 Gardena avenue, one block west of Brand boulevard, Glendale, every year about this time attracts numerous lovers of flowers. It's a veritable rose nest, the bungalow being practically covered with beautiful blooming buds, red, pink, yellow and white; during their eight years residence there Mr. and Mrs. Booth keeping adding new cuttings to this arbor of rest.

WEEK-END HOUSE PARTY

Miss Dorothy Jane Bolt entertained a week-end house party of young people from Los Angeles at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Everson, from Thursday to Saturday evening. The guests who enjoyed her hospitality were: Dorothy Kirkwood, Isabelle Griffin, Louise Clark, William Robertson, Verne Nesbit, Kenneth Kirkwood and Walter Arms.

AMERICAN MISSIONARY IMPRISONED

ELI M. MOWRY ARRESTED AND CONVICTED IN JAPANESE COURT OF AIDING KOREAN REVOLT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Seoul, Korea, April 21.—The trial of an American missionary named Mowry before a Japanese court was suddenly ordered last week. Mowry was one of the two Americans whom the Japanese arrested, charged with inciting a Korean revolt. Mowry admitted entertaining Koreans, but denied that he had any intention of furthering a revolt.

Washington, April 21.—Tokio today advised the State Department that Eli M. Mowry, an American missionary in Korea, had been sentenced to six months' imprisonment following conviction on the charge of allowing Korean revolutionists to use his premises for printing propaganda.

JAPANESE NAVAL PROGRAM

INCLUDES TWO BATTLESHIPS, TWO CRUISERS, EIGHT DESTROYERS AND SEVEN SUBMARINES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Tokio, April 21.—It was announced today that the Japanese naval program for next year includes two battleships, two cruisers, eight destroyers and seven submarines.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST H. C. L.

MEMBERS OF FEDERAL INDUSTRIAL BOARD DECLARE PRICES SOON WILL DROP ON FOOD, TEXTILES, SHOES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, April 21.—The illness of Judge Robert S. Lovett of the railway administration today caused a postponement of the conference between the railway administration and the industrial board on coal and steel price reductions.

Members of the industrial board declared that the cost of living will drop soon as a result of agreements reached on prices of food, textiles and shoes.

AIM TO WRECK ALLIED PEACE MACHINE

GERMAN DELEGATES TO PARIS PLANNING TO ATTEMPT TO BLUFF ENTENTE BY REFUSAL OF TERMS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Berlin, April 21.—The German peace delegation is going to Paris confidently expecting to wreck the Allied peace machine, it was plainly evident today from statements of the press and foreign office.

They expect to use the same tactics which brought the United States into the war two years ago. They will attempt to bluff the Allies with a refusal to accept the peace, working on the theory that the Allies are not in a position to call their bluff. The men in charge of the diplomatic policies are not different in any way from those who directed German diplomacies during the war.

As showing the attitude of the conservative element, the statement of President Havenstein of the German State Bank, one of the leading German financiers, is interesting. He told the United Press representative that the Allies, especially America, hold the key to Germany's future. He declared they must furnish Germany credit with German labor as the sole security; that Germany can pay a reasonable indemnity, but not an excessive one; that France need not fear Germany's military power, because the government cannot even defend itself against strikes. He added that German workmen are "absolutely crazy," that Germany must abolish socialism, and that only a quick peace with American aid can prevent Bolshevism.

EXILE OF KAISER AGREED UPON

EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO BRING HIM BEFORE INTERNATIONAL TRIBUNAL FOR VIOLATING NEUTRALITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, April 21.—It is reported that the "Big Four" of the peace conference have unanimously agreed on an exile similar to that of Napoleon as punishment for the kaiser. An effort will be made to bring the kaiser before an international tribunal, charged with violating Belgian neutrality instead of on a murder charge. The peace conference could find no law under which it could extradite him to face trial for murder.

The "Big Four" today continued the consideration of Italy's claims at this morning's session. President Wilson refused to attend the meeting, because the United States does not recognize the pact of London, on which the Italians base their demands.

ITALIAN PARLIAMENT OPENING POSTPONED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Rome, April 21.—The opening of the Italian Parliament has been postponed until May 6. It was scheduled to open today.

BOSTON TELEPHONE STRIKE ENDS

Boston, April 21.—Striking telephone operators returned to work this morning following an agreement reached last night.

ELEVENTH HOUR CALL

JUDGE LOWE AND MRS. RALPH MEEKER SUMMON CITIZENS TO VICTORY LOAN MEETING

At the eleventh hour an effort will be made to efficiently organize Glendale, which has been a laggard in the Victory Loan drive. Judge Frank H. Lowe, City Recorder, and Mrs. Ralph Meeker have consented to act as chairmen of the Men's and Women's Committees and they have called a meeting for this evening at 8 o'clock at the Red Cross headquarters on Brand boulevard to perfect the organization, district the city, and arrange the campaign for the drive. Glendale is declared by Leslie Henry to be the only city in his district thus far unorganized, and unless its people wake up and come forward voluntarily to help in this last great obligation of the war, an obligation which is an honest debt that must be met if the credit of the government is maintained, our city which has made such a splendid record in all previous drives and all calls for the Red Cross, will be a target of scorn and covered with humiliation. The promises which have been made to the men who freely offered their lives must be met. Money is a very insufficient payment for what they gave but it is the one and strong proof we can give of the sincerity of our appreciation of what they have done and of our willingness to carry out if possible what they have begun in attempting to free the world. Money is a small thing in comparison with life, but it is the one thing left us with which to balance in a measure the deeds of our soldiers and sailors and it is on this basis that Judge Lowe, Mrs. Meeker, W. B. Kirk and others who are taking up the burdens of this last drive are asking every patriotic citizen to attend the meeting this evening and say what he or she will do to help on the work. The headquarters should be packed, for the time is short and laborers are needed.

The chairmen of the committees, Judge Lowe and Mrs. Meeker, are depending upon the loyal workers who did such things in previous loans to cover the same territory this time, and they ask each one to come out to the meeting tonight and give assurance that they will again rise to the emergency and do their part in once more putting Glendale over the top.

CONGREGATIONAL MINISTERS IN "RETREAT"

Dr. E. H. Willisford left this morning for Avalon, Catalina Island, to attend the Congregationalist Ministers' Retreat. Each year immediately after Easter the Congregational pastors of Southern California gather at this attractive seaside resort. The forenoons and evenings are devoted to lectures, conferences and devotions. The afternoons are left open for rest and recreation. The attendance ranges from forty to sixty. The forenoon sessions are generally held in the open, oftentimes on some hill-top, overlooking the deep blue sea. The good people of Avalon are so glad to have these visitors that they furnish lodging without money and without price. Dr. Willisford will return on Friday.

EASTER AT M. E. CHURCH

SPECIAL SUNDAY SCHOOL PROGRAM AND BAPTISM AT REGULAR MORNING SERVICE

The First Methodist Church was beautifully decorated for Easter by the girls of Mrs. Chas. Starkey's Sunday School class. White and yellow flowers were used with masses of green.

The Easter celebration opened with a program entitled: "Life Abounding," given by the Sunday School. For weeks the school has been working toward an attendance of 400 by Easter, and there were 415 present. Every department of the school had some part in the exercises from the beginners to the adults.

At 11 o'clock a very large congregation gathered for the Easter worship. Five were baptized and seventeen new members were received during the opening service.

The sermon by the pastor, Rev. Chas. H. Scott, was on "Light, Life and Immortality." He said in part: "2nd Tim. 1:10: 'Our Savior, Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the Gospel.' Christ is the light of two worlds. While on earth He said of Himself, 'I am the light of the world,' and John in his vision of the heavenly city wrote 'and the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon to shine in it, for the glory of the Lord did lighten it and the Lamb is the light thereof.' Paul puts the

VOCATIONAL WORK

THAT AND PHYSICAL TRAINING THE KEYNOTE OF PRINCIPALS' ANNUAL CONVENTION

Prof. George U. Moyse returned Friday night from a strenuous three days at Catalina where the annual state convention of High School principals assembled. It is the fourth which has been held and the attendance is mandatory. It brings together on this account so large a crowd that it is not easy to find a place to contain it.

The war and the influenza epidemic so upset all school work programs that it was thought perhaps the convention would be abandoned this year, but when the decision was referred to the principals themselves, they voted for the convention. Reconstruction and reorganization problems, are to be faced in the schools as well as in the labor markets, and the teachers felt they have need of all the help they can get from the representatives of the government and from each other.

The original plan called for the convention to be held at Sacramento while the legislature would be in session, but it was found impossible to secure adequate accommodations there. Catalina was therefore selected with headquarters for the delegates at St. Catherine's hotel and the sessions in the big cafe room of Boos Brothers, which proved a very satisfactory arrangement.

The assembly was conducted by A. C. Olney, State Commissioner of Education, who succeeded Commissioner Wood when he was elected State Superintendent of Schools. On account of the unusual conditions and the uncertainty as to whether it would be held at all, it had not been possible to plan a program very far ahead and it was therefore rather hastily arranged. It was nevertheless a very profitable congress for all, not only because of what was brought to the teachers by the Federal Commissioners of Education—of which there were three, but because of what they learned by contact with each other.

A FITTING CLIMAX

GREAT EASTER SERVICE AND DECISION DAY AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Beginning with attendance of many at the sunrise service on the hilltop north of the city and ending at 10 p. m. Easter Sunday was crowded with happy events to the membership of Central Christian Church. The Sunday School hour was well spent and instead of an offering of $25 for the Orphans' Homes supported by the Christian Churches of the nation, as had been planned, nearly $40 was given. At the close of the service 14 children of the Sunday School confessed Christ. Morning worship and communion followed. There was some grand singing by choir and a solo by Luther Solt. The sermon subject was "The Risen Christ." A service at 3 by the C. W. B. M. auxiliary was well attended. At night the Young People's societies held appropriate Easter meetings and then after another great song service, Rev. Cole preached on "A Voice Out of the Darkness." Following the sermon four persons who had been members elsewhere took membership with the local congregation, after which the baptismal service was held in which twelve children were immersed.

EASTER LUNCHEON

Mrs. Charles Guthrie of Pioneer Drive entertained a few of her daughter's friends at a delightful Easter luncheon on Saturday, the 19th. The reception rooms in the Guthrie home were beautifully decorated with spring flowers and made a pretty setting for the affair. Following the luncheon a pleasant afternoon was spent with reading, music and games. The young ladies who enjoyed Mrs. Guthrie's hospitality were: Misses Margery and Barbara Baker, Louise Holenbeck, Eleanor Sawyer, Catherine Guthrie and Bernice Wilson of Los Angeles.

L. B. Bradley, who recently bought the Dr. Smith place at 1233 Dorothy Drive, is now a regular reader of the Evening News. He and his wife recently came out here with his parents from Interlaken, N. Y. They sold a farm of 50 acres near Interlaken for $130 an acre. Mr. Bradley says the main farm products of that part of New York are corn, wheat, oats, rye and potatoes. Sugar corn for canning is a main crop. New York corn ranking next to that raised in Maine for quality. Mr. Bradley expects to buy acreage and do some ranching.

and by comparing notes on their common problems. The method of handling a difficulty in one part of the state can often be applied to good advantage in another, and Mr. Moysse says that the personal conferences outside the sessions were worth as much to the teachers in helping them with practical questions as were the sessions which dealt with more theoretical school matters.

The reconstruction element in education was the central thought in the discussions, together with the reorganization of courses. The tendency appeared to be more and more towards vocational work in the High Schools and under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes Bill. Consideration was also given to new matriculation requirements for the entrance of High School graduates into the State University.

Dr. Hetherington, Commissioner of Physical Education, and Mr. Nash, his assistant, occupied one forenoon with a demonstration of physical culture work. They emphasized two things. First, physical exercise in the schools, and second, instruction which would inspire students to work at home to correct their special deficiencies as, for instance, in posture and the squaring of the shoulders. The corrective work would be outlined by the instructor and then worked out by the student outside of classes. The instruction side of physical training was emphasized more than ever before at such a convention.

It was the general feeling that school work is in as great a state of transition as is the industrial world, and that the return of the soldiers is going to call for many readjustments in schools as well as in employments.

Another impressive feature of this convention was the responsibility toward the schools which the federal authorities are beginning to assume. There were three addresses by Federal commissioners which dealt with vocational work. This disposition to have our educational system properly related to the government was voiced in a resolution adopted by the convention recommending that the government appoint a Commissioner of Education who should be a member of the President's cabinet with the same rank and standing as other cabinet officers. The fact that the government sent three commissioners to this meeting shows, Mr. Moysse declares, that it recognizes the intimate relationship that should exist between the government and the schools; in other words that the government should keep in touch with the schools.

It is now proposed to hold the fifth annual convention the early part of the next school year in September or October. Teachers would thus have the benefit of the knowledge gained in two conventions, i. e., the ideas gained at Catalina, which will help in the organization of school work next year, and the more matured conclusions which educators will have reached by that time which will be of service during the balance of the school year. In a talk which Mr. Moysse had with the Commissioner of Education, who was a college friend of his, the matter was discussed as a proposition which strongly appealed to him and other High School principals with whom he had spoken, and he feels confident the convention will be held early as indicated.

Personals
Harry Marple, wife and little Betty of Redondo Beach spent Sunday in Glendale with their numerous relatives.
At 10 a. m. on Easter morning Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pettit of 127 South Kenwood street welcomed to their home at 12-pound son, who has been named Robert Wilson Pettit.
It is estimated that 15,000 people attended the Easter services on Mt.
Rubidoux, near Riverside, and several thousand those on the summit of Eagle Rock. Glendale people were well represented at both places.

The First National Bank of Glendale is rather short-handed today on account of sickness in the ranks which has laid low Ed Lee, W. W.
McElroy, W. A. Goss and Miss Dorthy Wilde.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Meeker and family have returned from an Easter trip to San Diego in which they had a royal good time. Mrs. Meeker is now up to her eyes in work on the Victory Loan, having accepted the chairmanship of the Woman's Committee in the Glendale Drive.

Glendale business men, grocers in particular, will be interested in the news that an anti-trading stamp bill passed in the California Assembly Saturday. It was bitterly fought, yet passed by a 54 to 7 vote. The Senate had previously passed it so it now goes to the Governor for his signature.

Miss Wilhelmina Loos and her sister, Mrs. Smith Dabney, of Los Angeles, attended the meeting of the C. W. B. M. auxiliary at Central Christian Church Sunday afternoon.
Miss Loos made a very interesting address to the ladies. She is a daughter of the late Prof. Chas. Louis Loos, for many years an instructor in the College of the Bible, Lexington, Ky.

A week-end mountain trip was enjoyed by Mrs. Turner of 318 North Jackson street, her daughters Violet and Muriel, Corporal Larson who has just returned from France, George Lamoreaux and friends from Los Angeles. They went to the Turner Cabin at Roberts' Camp and through the greater number of the party returned.
Mrs. Turner, Muriel Turner and Corporal Larson remained for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Knight of Chicago have been guests for some time of Mrs. Knight's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Radcliffe, of 426 Pioneer Drive, who have been showing them the beauties of Southern California and trying to prevail upon them to make their home here. Mr. Knight has recently been discharged from Uncle Sam's service and would consider locating here could he find as good a job as he had before he joined the army.

EMERY FAMILY HAPPY
Mrs. E. U. Emery reports an Easter Day made wonderfully happy for her and hers by the receipt of the following telegram:
New York, April 20th.
Arrived in New York on the steam-ception. America sure looks good to me. Easter greeting. No sea-sickness. Am well. Leaving for California in three days or more. Will wire ahead if possible. Love, FIRST SERGT. OWEN C. EMERY.

Sergeant Emery has so large a circle of friends here this news will be very good news in Glendale, not alone to his civilian friends but to his comrades in arms who have returned from camps and overseas.

THE HILLTOP SERVICE Between 250 and 300 people climbed the mountain top at the north end of Louise street, for a sunrise service on Easter morning and all felt repaid for it was a beautiful, up-lifting ceremony. It included an opening prayer by Rev. R. W. Mottern, congregational singing led by J. Chester White, a baritone solo, "The New Jerusalem," by Luther Solt, and still another number, "He Died for Me," and an address by Rev.
W. L. Y. Davis of Pasadena whose theme quite naturally was "The Resurrection and the New Life."

He referred to the gatherings which had taken place on the mountain tops all down through the ages which had marked great events, to Moses' meeting with God upon the mountain top and finally to Christ's sermon on the mount and His death upon Calvary. He dwelt upon the significance of that death and its promise to bring life everlasting and then touched on the beliefs of the people in regard to death and immortality, how the Hindoo looks for immortality through death and the transmigration of the soul, and mentioned other beliefs in regard to it, but declared it was Christ Himself who brought us the real truth concerning everlasting life, that some day there would be a resurrection.

He then brought it home by reminding his hearers that after the up-lifting of their souls upon the mountain top they must return to the valley where the temptations of the world would beset them and to that world they must carry the message of the mountain top and strive to lead others to the new life.
The service closed with a few words of exhortation from J. Chester White urging immediate consecration to the new life.

later than Thursday morning. All Masons and their ladies invited.

meaning of both of these into one statement in this text.
It is well at Easter to remember that Jesus did not put all His light into the tomb; He also brought life to light. In other words, He made it possible for humanity to see life as it really is. Life was obscured. Much of it lay in the shadows, and could not be seen or understood of men, but Jesus brought it out into the daylight, so that we might behold it. Until He came, men could not see either the purpose or the worth of life. He brought both to light in the Gospel.
This rise in the value of the bodies of men is due to Christ's showing how much better a man is than a sheep. Because a man has a mind, his body is beyond price. Jesus brought the mental possibilities of life to light. The world did not know that it had a right to think for itself until He declared liberty of mind.
Wherever the knowledge of His name has spread it has broken the chains of ignorance and superstition which have bound the mind of man.
Moreover, Jesus brought to view the purpose of life. He showed us that life is a soul-making experience.
Its purpose is not that we may enjoy certain sweets and escape the hard things in the world, but that all which comes to us, both weal and woe, shall build our souls in godliness. What we do or endure is not the end for which we are here, but rather the means of a new creation, that we may be "changed in His image from glory to glory." It is in revealing the purpose of life that Christ "the light of the world" blends with Christ the light of Heaven. "He that liveth and believeth in Me shall never die" sheds a radiant light on both sides of the tomb. No life can be so sweet and happy on earth but Heaven is sweeter and happier, and no matter how painful or miserable an earth life may be, if it ends in Heaven, all the pain or suffering can be counted as nothing for "the glory that shall be." Open the windows of your soul today to both these streams of Divine light. Let Jesus light your life on earth. Let Him reveal its worth and purpose. And most of all on this anniversary of His Resurrection lift your eyes to the glories of eternal life revealed in Him.

At 8 p. m. the choir under the direction of Miss Isabelle Isgrig and with Miss Guelph McQuinn at the pipe organ rendered the Easter cantata, "The Divine Victory" (Marks).
A profound spirit of worship characterized the service as the story of Christ's suffering, death and resurrection was given, closing in an exultant chorus of man's victory over death through Christ.

ART CRETONNES
Very interesting has been the evolution of cretonne from the time it first took its place upon the market as a gay, rather crudely printed fabric for use as furniture coverings and draperies, to the present day artistic products of American looms. It is traceable to art education and the fine work of native designers who are turning their attention from silks and luxurious fabrics to this beautiful art medium, which is beginning to have quite a vogue for fancy petticoats. The Williams Dry Goods Store has a lovely assortment of carefully selected designs and colors, and it is one of the most attractive departments especially the cretonnes in which tapestry patterns are reproduced with wonderful fidelity. 1951f

FOR COUNTRY AND CHURCH
At the First Congregational Church Sunday morning Dr. Willis-ford took the opportunity to urge all who could to buy bonds. To buy is simply to finish the job which we began. If our boys were still fighting, being wounded and suffering and dying, there would not be a single question as to the outcome of the issue.
Because the fighting is over, the suffering and dying have ceased. A great victory has been won. The people should buy the more quickly and freely. Why not make it a great national Thanksgiving offering? No, it is not an offering. It is simply a loan to the best of creditors, interest fair, security as good as God's country. "For myself I am going to invest every dollar I can and then lay those bonds aside for the new church which some day we hope to have."
The people were urged to go and do likewise only more so if possible.

CHURCH BROKEN INTO
When the ladies of St. Mark's Episcopal Church arrived at the church on Saturday to place the floral decorations for Easter, they found that the church had been entered at some time during the week, that the baptismal font had been broken on the stairs leading to the altar gild room, also that boards of the partition in the Sunday School room had been wrenched apart and in that way entrance had been gained to the church.
The lock was broken on the cupboard where the church dishes are kept and other mischief had been done, although nothing had been taken. Evidence was left behind, however, which has given clues to the perpetrators, which evidence has been placed in the hands of the police for investigation.

Mrs. L. E. Berkey and daughter, Elizabeth, of Buena Park, spent Sunday with relatives and many friends here.

travagance. One of the things that won the war was extravagance; and Victory forgives a multitude of mistakes. The French find just as much fault with their government; so do the British; so even do the Germans.
Our Government is just as good as we deserve. We create it from time to time to suit ourselves. Very few of us have ever devoted much of our time or money in efforts to remove the faults and weaknesses in it that we criticize. That is was not better suited to the task is nothing but the fault of every one of us. It was never designed to fight war with.
It undertook a perfectly appalling task and performed it successfully. As governments go, it is probably the best of any of them. Abuse of it cannot be accepted as a substitute for support.

There are people who say the Government must make the bonds so attractive that a supposed class called "the investors" will want them. If this could be done, the very people who propose it would roundly denounce the Government for having given away vast profits to these investors. But in reality there exists no great money-lending class to whom we may direct the Government and thus evade our individual responsibility. There is no such sum as four and a half billion dollars of surplus wealth in the hands of anybody merely awaiting attractive terms for investment. These bonds must be bought (or a like amount in taxes levied), and they can be bought in only one way—by all the people of America, each in approximate proportion to his ability, just as heretofore. They must be paid for either out of savings that have already been made, or by borrowings which shall be paid, in turn, out of the savings of the future. There is no other method. If the war were still going on and the expense still piling up, as we expected it to be, we would have bought in that way not only this, but a sixth and a seventh loan, and perhaps others as well. But now this one is the last. Its success rests upon the honor and integrity of the American people. They chose their Government; its acts are their acts and they will fulfill its obligations.
Not only some of them will do it, but practically all of them will do it.
Personal honor and integrity will impel most of them. Public opinion will compel the remaining few. When the Government calls upon the people of this country to buy its bonds whereby it may discharge a just indebtedness which the people of this country ordered it to incur, the willing, the patriotic and the loyal, who do their full proportion, are not going to submit to an additional burden being placed upon them by allowing a few delinquents to evade their just responsibility upon specious pleas that will not bear analysis.

It is not the war that is over, but only the danger. War includes production, transportation, financing, the mobilization and demobilization of Army and Navy, and many other things. None of these are over—only the fighting is, and your proportion of this loan is just as much as it would have been if they were still fighting.

THIS BOY pawned his arm for America.

He can never redeem it.

What will you lend on that arm?

What would YOU want him to lend if it was YOUR arm?

Then lend it in
